END OF REGULAR SEASON

AIMING FOR NO. 1

Despite three trips to the WNBA Finals, the Dream has never before finished the regular season with the East's best record. But the Dream can make that happen with one more victory. The Dream could also equal or surpass its mark for most wins in a season, needing wins in its last three contests to tie the franchise mark of 20 by the 2011 squad.

HOME COOKING

Atlanta is 11-4 at home this season, with a chance to match last season's franchise-best 13 home victories. The Dream, which has now won at least 10 home games in six straight seasons, has won 28 of its last 37 regular-season home games dating back to the 2012 season.

FAB FOUR

Atlanta's foursome of Angel McCoughtry (552 points), Erika de Souza (417), Tiffany Hayes (408) and Sancho Lyttle (383) is the only foursome in the league in which all four players have scored at least 350 points this season. It is also the only foursome in which all players are averaging at least 12 points per game. The quartet has accounted for 70.5 percent of the Dream's 2,497 points this season.

RUNNING WITH THE DREAM

Head coach Michael Cooper has made no secret of his desire to have his team push the ball up the floor and score in transition whenever possible. So far, that plan has been a success, as the Dream has outscored its opponents in fast-break points 25 times in the team's 31 games and leads the league in fast-break points. Atlanta has nearly doubled its opponents' output in fast-break points, with a total margin of 411-223.

POINTS IN THE PAINT

The Dream has outscored its opponents in the paint in 22 of 31 games so far this season, with a sizable edge for the year of 1206-988. The Dream collected a whopping 68 points in the paint in a victory over Los Angeles on June 3, which is 12 more than in any other game this year.

CRASHING THE BOARDS

The Dream has been one of the league's best rebounding team this year, leading the league in total rebounds (37.1), ranking second in rebound differential (+2.5) and total rebounding percentage (.521) and third in offensive boards (11.58). Atlanta's offensive rebounding percentage of .317 has helped lead to a 446-314 advantage in second-chance points this season.

DID YOU KNOW

Atlanta is 14-1 this season when scoring at least 80 points ... Atlanta was outrebounded just three times in the first 20 games, but six times in the last 11 games ... Atlanta has played in a league-high five overtime games - two more than any other team ... Atlanta leads the league in turnovers forced (17.5) ... Atlanta is allowing just 17.9 points per game in the fourth quarter - its lowest point total surrendered of any quarter.

HOT HAYES

After a slow start (19 points in her first four games), Tiffany Hayes has been a scoring machine, reaching double figures in scoring 23 times in the last 27 games. She has scored at least 15 points in nine of her last 15 contests, averaging 15.9 points during that stretch. She now ranks 19th in the league in scoring (13.2), and ranks sixth in the league among guards with a field goal percentage of .463.

SHOOTING STAR

Angel McCoughtry, the league's two-time defending scoring champion, ranks fourth in the league in scoring at 19.0 points per game. She has also been clutch, hitting the go-ahead basket with 42.9 seconds left in the season opener against San Antonio on May 16, the winning three-pointer with 8.8 seconds left in the road opener at Indiana, and the go-ahead three with 2:04 left at Indiana June 29. In addition, McCoughtry leads the league in steals (2.48), ranks 14th in assists (3.7) and 20th in rebounds (5.4).

2014 ATLANTA DREAM BASKETBALL

DREAM SEASON FOR DE SOUZA

Erika de Souza is having perhaps the best season of her career. The ninth-year veteran is fourth in the league in blocks (1.5), sixth in rebounds (8.9) and field goal percentage (.554) and 15th in scoring (career-best 13.9). After leading the league with 18 double-doubles in 2013, de Souza has eight more this season, which ranks tied for ninth in the league. She was named the Eastern Conference Player of the Week for the first time in her career for the week of June 2-8.

RECORD SETTER

Sancho Lyttle has put her name in the records books in two categories this season, breaking the team single-game record for rebounds and tying the team single-game record for steals. In the road opener at Indiana she grabbed 21 rebounds, breaking the record of 20 she shared with Erika de Souza. Aug. 5 at Phoenix she collected seven steals, tying Angel McCoughtry's team record. Lyttle, who was named Eastern Conference Player of the Week for the week of June 23-29, has nine double-doubles this season, which is tied for sixth most in the league, and ranks second in steals (2.39) and fifth in rebounds (9.2).

WELCOME TO THE CENTURY CLUB

Erika de Souza and Sancho Lyttle both recorded their 1,000th career field goals June 22 in New York. The first to reach the milestone was de Souza, in the first quarter, while Lyttle joined her in the third period. Lyttle now has 1,105 career field goals while de Souza has 1,088, and they are two of four members of this year's Dream squad to have made at least 1,000 career field goals, joining Delisha Milton-Jones (2,067) and Angel McCoughtry (1,262).

SHOWTIME SHONI

Shoni Schimmel's WNBA career started with a bang, as she set a WNBA record for most assists in the first four games of a career with 37, and tied the franchise record for assists in a game with 11 in the season opener, which was second most in a debut in WNBA history (Andrea Nagy, 12, June 10, 1999). Schimmel, who ranks sixth in the league in assists per 40 minutes (6.9), 19th in assists (3.5) and eighth among rookies in scoring (7.6), followed that with 17 points and 10 assists the next night in Indiana, already becoming one of just four players in Dream history to have multiple double-digit assist games.

TO CATCH A THIEF

Atlanta has long been one of the top teams in the league in steals, and 2014 is no exception, as the Dream leads the league averaging 10.0 steals per game. Individually, Angel McCoughtry leads the league, averaging 2.48 steals per game, while Sancho Lyttle is second at 2.39 per contest.

SHARE AND SHARE ALIKE

The Dream has recorded at least 23 assists six times already this season, and ranks third in the league averaging 19.4 assists per game. Last season, the Dream had just three games all season in which it recorded at least 23 assists, and averaged 16.6 assists per contest.

COOPER BACK AFTER TAKING MEDICAL LEAVE

Dream head coach Michael Cooper took a temporary leave of absence after being diagnosed with early stage tongue cancer. He underwent a successful surgical procedure on July 24 at the Winship Cancer Institute of Emory University in Atlanta, and returned in a limited capacity 10 days later for the Dream's Aug. 3 home game against New York. He missed the Aug. 5 game at Phoenix before re-joining the team Aug. 7 in Seattle.

ALL-STARS: THREE AND MVP

For the first time in team history, the Dream had two players elected to start the All-Star Game, and three total All-Stars. Shoni Schimmel, who had the third most All-Star votes of any player, earned MVP honors after scoring an All-Star game record 29 points with eight assists. Angel McCoughtry finished second in the voting among Eastern frontcourt players for her third All-Star starting assignment, and had 13 points and seven boards. Erika de Souza made her third appearance and also started due to Elena Delle Donne's absence, and had eight points and four rebounds. In addition, Michael Cooper was the East's head coach by virtue of leading the East's first-place team.

RECORD-TYING SIX STRAIGHT

Atlanta had a six-game winning streak from June 3-20, tying the franchise record for longest winning streak. The Dream also won six in a row from May 15-30, 2010, and again from June 14-30, 2013.

TOUGH D

Atlanta tied a franchise record May 25 vs. Indiana, allowing the Fever only four points in the fourth quarter, marking the third time the Dream had allowed a team to score just four points in any quarter. Four points is also tied for the second-fewest ever allowed in a WNBA game since the league switched to quarters in 2007. Only 10 times in league history has a team held its opponents to four points or fewer in a quarter, and the Dream is the only team to accomplish it more than once.

SHOOTING FOR SIX

Atlanta has clinched its sixth consecutive playoff appearance. Atlanta and Indiana are the only teams in the Eastern Conference to reach the playoffs in each of the previous five seasons, and the Dream is the only team in the WNBA to finish with a record of at least .500 in each of the past five years. In fact, there have been 18 different WNBA franchises since the league began play in 1997, and Atlanta is one of just four of those 18 that reached the playoffs at least five times in its first six seasons. The other three (Charlotte, Houston, New York) were franchises that were part of the initial group of eight teams that began play in 1997. Of the 10 franchises that joined the league after 1997, only Atlanta accomplished the feat.

VETERAN FRONTCOURT

Atlanta returns three post players who have logged a lot of games in a Dream uniform. Center Erika de Souza is the only member of the team who was on the initial roster in 2008, and has played in a franchise best 191 games for the Dream. Meanwhile, Angel McCoughtry and Sancho Lyttle came to the Dream one year after de Souza and have played in 187 and 159 games, respectively, in Dream uniforms.

REUNITED (AND IT FEELS SO GOOD)

Delisha Milton-Jones was acquired in a trade from New York on July 9, but suffered a ruptured right Achilles tendon on July 13 vs. Chicago and will be sidelined for the remainder of the season. Milton-Jones had previously played for current Dream head coach Michael Cooper with the Los Angeles Sparks from 2000-04, and again from 2008-09. During their first stint together, Los Angeles amassed a record of 119-31, winning two titles (2001, 2002) and finishing each regular season in first place in the West. In their second stint, they advanced to two more Western Conference Finals.

AN INTERNATIONAL TEAM

There are currently 18 foreign-born players on WNBA rosters, and six of them play for the Dream. Atlanta's roster includes players born in Brazil (Nadia Colhado, Erika de Souza), France (Céline Dumerc), Jamaica (Aneika Henry), Liberia (Matee Ajavon) and Saint Vincent and the Grenadines (Sancho Lyttle). The Dream also began the season with Inga Orekhova, who was born in the Ukraine, on the roster.

LYTTLE EARNS INTERNATIONAL HONOR

In February, Dream forward Sancho Lyttle was named the 2013 FIBA Europe Women's Player of the Year. Lyttle earned the award based largely on her tournament MVP performance while helping Spain win the gold medal at EuroBasket Women in June of 2013. Lyttle was the top player at the EuroBasket competition, leading all players in scoring (18.4), rebounds (11.1), steals (2.9) and double-doubles (seven in nine games). In a 70-69 victory over host France in the gold-medal game, Lyttle collected 20 points, 11 boards, four steals and a pair of assists to help Spain win its first EuroBasket title in two decades.

TEAM OF THE YEAR

In March, the Dream was named Team of the Year at the annual Atlanta Sports Awards. The Dream earned the award on the strength of a third Eastern Conference Championship and trip to the WNBA Finals in four seasons. The Dream reached the playoffs for a fifth consecutive year in 2013, and set a franchise record with a 13-4 home record. Atlanta opened the season with a 10-1 record, becoming just the sixth team in WNBA history to win at least 10 of its first 11 games.

2014 ATLANTA DREAM BASKETBALL

COOPER BRINGS SHOWTIME TO THE DREAM

Two-time WNBA champion head coach Michael Cooper is in his first season as Atlanta's head coach. Cooper is one of the most successful coaches in WNBA history, entering the season ranked second in career winning percentage (.663) and sixth in career victories (167). He is the last WNBA head coach to lead his team to back-to-back league titles, winning the 2001 and 2002 championships with the Los Angeles Sparks. He had two stints as head coach of the Sparks, amassing a record of 167-85 over eight seasons (2000-04, 2007-09), including a 25-13 (.658) playoff record. He guided the Sparks to three Western Conference titles and reached the conference finals six times.

THOMPSON, EDWARDS JOIN STAFF

The Dream completed its coaching staff with the additions of Karleen Thompson and Teresa Edwards as assistant coaches. Thompson was an assistant on Michael Cooper's staff with the Los Angeles Sparks that won WNBA titles in 2001 and 2002, and she served as interim co-head coach when Cooper left during the 2004 season to join the Denver Nuggets' staff. She was later the head coach and GM for the Houston Comets from 2007-08. Edwards, a five-time Olympian, coached with the Tulsa Shock, and was promoted from assistant to interim head coach in 2011. She also has coached with the Minnesota Lynx, but the former Georgia Bulldog is best known for her playing career. Sports Illustrated named her the No. 22 greatest female athlete - and No. 2 basketball player - of the 20th century.

TAYLOR NAMED PRESIDENT/GM

Angela Taylor was named the Dream's Executive Vice President and General Manager on Jan. 21, and was elevated to President on May 19. She previously served as Vice President and General Manager for the Washington Mystics for two seasons (2009-10) and Vice President of Business Operations for the Minnesota Lynx (2006-08), and is the Owner and President of NetWorks Sports Consulting. A member of two national championship teams as an undergraduate at Stanford, Taylor coached the Cardinal as well as at Texas A&M and Arizona before spending 10 years in the WNBA League Office.

DREAM ANNOUNCES TELEVISION SCHEDULE

The Atlanta Dream renewed its television partnership with FOX Sports South and SportSouth for the 2014 WNBA season. All Dream home games at Philips Arena that are not nationally televised will be televised on FOX Sports South and/or SportSouth. Coverage also includes three road matchups: May 17 and July 12 at Indiana, and July 22 at Minnesota.

DREAM ON THE RADIO

The Dream has entered into a new promotional partnership with CBS Radio Atlanta, which marks the first major market radio partnership in Dream history. This season, SportsRadio 92-9 The Game will serve as the team's exclusive sports radio station and V-103/1380 WAOK will be the exclusive urban radio stations for the Dream. Two Dream home games were broadcast live on 92-9 The Game this season - the June 7 game against Chicago and an Aug. 3 contest against New York.

SUCCESS OVERSEAS

Sancho Lyttle helped Galatasaray enjoy its best season ever during the offseason, becoming the first Turkish club to win the EuroLeague title, winning its first Turkish League championship in 14 years and the Turkish Cup as well. Galatasaray defeated Angel McCoughtry's Fenerbahce squad in the finals of all three. In addition, Céline Dumerc led Tango Bourges Basket to the French League finals, and in Brazil, Sport Recife, which included Erika de Souza, Tiffany Hayes and Nadia Colhado, reached the finals before falling. Other Dream players to play overseas were Matee Ajavon (Mersin/Turkey) and Anika Henry (Antakya/Turkey).

2014 ATLANTA DREAM BASKETBALL

MICHAEL COOPER

HEAD COACH

Career Regular Season Record in WNBA:	184-99
Career Postseason Record in WNBA:	25-13
Career Regular Season Record in Atlanta:	17-14

Former NBA player and WNBA champion coach Michael Cooper is in his first season as Head Coach of the Atlanta Dream. Cooper was a five-time NBA Champion as a player with the Los Angeles Lakers, and led the Los Angeles Sparks to two WNBA titles as the team's head coach.

Cooper is one of the most successful coaches in WNBA history, ranking second in career winning percentage (.663) and sixth in career victories (167) entering the 2014 season. He is the last WNBA head coach to have led his team to back-to-back league titles, winning the 2001 and 2002 championships in Los Angeles.

Cooper comes to the Dream after spending the past four seasons (2009-13) as the head coach of the women's basketball team at the University of Southern California, compiling a record of 72-57 (.558). Prior to that, he had two stints as head coach of the Sparks, amassing a record of 167-85 (.663) over eight seasons (2000-04, 2007-09), including a 25-13 (.658) play-off record. He guided the Sparks to three Western Conference titles and reached the conference finals six times.

After one season as an assistant coach for the Sparks, Cooper took over as head coach in 2000 and in his first season, led the team to a 28-4 record while being named the WNBA Coach of the Year. He then guided the team to WNBA Championships in 2001 and 2002, and reached the WNBA Finals again in 2003 before losing to Detroit. His second stint with the Sparks included two more trips to the Western Conference Finals in 2008 and 2009.

Cooper's association with Los Angeles started when he spent his entire 12-year (1979-90) NBA career with the Lakers, helping the "Showtime" Lakers to five NBA titles (1980-82-85-87-88). Known for his defensive prowess, he was named to the NBA All-Defensive Team eight times – including five first team selections – and was the league's Defensive Player of the Year in 1987.

Cooper finished his career ranked in the Lakers' top 10 in games played (873), minutes played (23,635), 3-point field goals (428), steals (1,033), blocked shots (523), assists (3,666), defensive rebounds (2,028) and free throw percentage (.833). He also spent one season playing professionally in Italy in 1991 with Pallacanestro Virtus Roma.

Following his playing career, Cooper served as a special assistant to Lakers general manager Jerry West for three years before joining the Lakers' coaching staff for four seasons (1994-97).

Cooper ended his first stint with the Sparks to return to the NBA in 2005 as an assistant with the Denver Nuggets, and spent part of that season serving as interim head coach. He then became the head coach of the NBA Development League's Albuquerque Thunderbirds for two seasons (2005-07), winning the NBA D-League Championship in 2006 and posting a 50-48 (.510) regular-season record.

Cooper attended Pasadena (Calif.) High and then Pasadena City College before starring at New Mexico, where he made the All-Western Athletic Conference first team as a senior in 1978. He was selected to the Lobo Hall of Honor in 1992.

Cooper has also been recognized for his community efforts off the court. During the 1985-86 season, Cooper, along with New York's Rory Sparrow, was selected by the Pro Basketball Writer's Association as the recipient of the J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award. Cooper was also honored with the Commitment to Excellence Award during the 2007 Los Angeles Sports Fans Choice Awards.
